Review

"Toy walks the reader through many dimensions of existence with an eye for personal empowerment in the inner worlds. In her reports of amazing experiences, she never loses focus on the importance of our self-responsibility and infinite potential as human beings. Whatever your beliefs, this will stretch your horizons."
--Betty Bland, president of the Theosophical Society in America

From the Inside Flap

In the early 1990s, while working at the United Nations Development Programme in New York, Atala Dorothy Toy went through a near-death experience that took her on a journey and showed her a new way of perceiving energy in which all objects in the universe (including machines, stones, and trees) are alive, conscious, and willing to cooperate with humans to fashion a healthier, more holistic world. Now in this easy-to-read book she teaches the deceptively simple art of how to communicate with any object or life form. All it takes is knowing you can do it and then learning how.

Practical and Easy to Understand

By Jessica C. Bryan

I came across Atala Dorothy Toy's book while doing research for my new book on the subject of mediumship, multi-dimensional reality, and inter-dimensional communication. I especially appreciate the fact that Atala has presented this complex subject in a "user-friendly," and easy to understand format. This book is highly recommended for anyone studying channeling, mediumship, and reaching out to communicate with the discarnate beings (meaning without physical bodies) who exist in the spiritual dimensions. I'm sure I will be referring to it often in my own ongoing metaphysical education.

Very interesting book!

By Greg A. Munson

I've read books on meditation and others on astral projection. But I've never heard of the concept of interdimensional travel like how it is explained in this book. Just with any form of meditation will take practice and continuous exercise, one can use the benefits taught in this book to expand their horizons.
